This calendar includes photographs, advertisements, and signage capturing the wide variety of almost 200 businesses that have flourished, faded, endured, and emerged throughout the town's history since 1846. Photographs and advertising include both historic and contemporary businesses and run the gamut from early general stores, quarries, garages, gas stations, and cheese factories to the era of the dance band and roadside café and to the modern industries that thrive in the town. Many of the town's home-based businesses from the past and the present are included. The calendar also features an insert listing Town of Byron businesses from early days to the present.
