This calendar captures the pioneer spirit of residents from early settlement to modern times. In addition to 42 photographs depicting people, places, and events that weave together local and national events, this year's calendar features news stories from 100 years. Stories run the gamut from marriages, deaths, and other major milestones to meetings, visitors in the town, automobile travels, illnesses, and crop planting news, complementing the wide range of photographs that date from a log cabin built in 1846 to legendary Steve Wittman posing with World War II hero Jimmy Doolittle. The insert provides additional photographs and news articles. Click on the photograph name index for a listing of individuals included in the calendar.
